A Word from one of our Ministers

Friends,

I write this early one Sunday morning in June, and as God has formed this message in my mind, I have been very emotional. We are in a process of discernment as to the Church's situation in the next quarter century. I came to visit you for the very first time just over 3 years ago, and I was introduced to key people, shown the building site which would become my home, and I heard some of the stories of the 3 churches that would become Cornerstone. I listened to the hopes shared as well as the challenges, and I went back north and reflected. I came here in August 2021 with some anxieties about the magnitude of the calling.

When I arrived, I told you something of my story, but stories continue to unfold: I didn't know then how my story would continue to unfold though, but God continues to be in it with me whatever happens – my story is part of God's story, and God's story is even more a part of my story.

Early this year, someone I love phoned me out of the blue on a Sunday morning and told me that she was seeing someone: a girl. She was trusting me with her heart and tentatively asking me what I would do with it. I exclaimed with joy that she felt able to trust me and I continue to hold that precious gift with deep tenderness, whilst her girlfriend is also becoming well loved. The only reason that I have wept over them is that people still have to live in a society where they are judged for the feelings of their hearts. My story has not always been this one, and stories can change: God is the author and finisher of our story, and what God calls us to do is to sit with it as it unfolds in a place of her grace and my repentance.

Gavin and I have been trying very hard not to influence the direction of the Discerning Prayer Journey work, but I couldn't not speak out about inclusion: as the Circuit's Equality, Diversity and Inclusivity (EDI) Officer, I have been prompted this morning to explore this message: it isn't an easy one.

My vision for Cornerstone is that the church, which is the people of God, would remember and embrace Jesus' way of disturbing society's tribal instincts so that we become radically inclusive, to the extent that we can eliminate "they" and "them" from our vocabulary, because "we" are all here: those experiencing poverty, marginalised, refugee, gay, black, divorced, differently-abled in every way, migrant, young, old, trans, neurodiverse, and everyone else! A vision that our love for Jesus and for each other would hold us together more tightly than any difference could separate us, and that the beauty and fullness of the Kingdom might be found and known at Cornerstone. That we embrace our place as children of God at the feet of the Saviour and know that there is a place for everyone. Ultimately, that the family of God is as broad as God creates it to be, and not limited by our own understanding. Bob Boyce spoke profoundly at St Andrews on the 9th June when he was preaching about Mark 3: "Jesus lived and died to expand our definition of love and of family." Read that twice.

To be so radically inclusive is an act of surrender to God: this is God's church and we are God's people. As church, we like rules and boundaries and we struggle with the chaos of humanity but we serve a God who breaks down barriers, we follow a man who was a Jewish rabbi AND a rule-breaker, and he shows us time and again that the Kingdom breaks in when we are least expecting it. My hopes and dreams as an EDI Officer are that Cornerstone is a place of inclusion, of diversity and where the full life of the entire people of God is explored and celebrated. We can become a church which truly looks outwards. Cornerstone might be called to surrender what history and tradition have shaped it to expect, and to step out, as Abraham did, into a new future, one of opportunity and hope, founded in the example of Jesus Christ, and inspired by his great commandments to love one another. No ifs, no buts, and no boundaries. Let our story be one of love. Just love.

DISCERNING PRAYER JOURNEY NEWS

Our Discerning Prayer Journey began in April as we sought to focus our vision for the next 25 years. Here's where we have got to and what happens next.

We began the journey by inviting everyone to join in thinking about what our Silver Jubilee might look like. Where would we be as a church? Who would be there? There were some struggles with the task – 25 years is after all a long way ahead! We've stuck with it, though, because we believe it helps us focus forward rather than just thinking about ourselves and here and now.

Along with our personal and group conversations we have planned three Discerning Prayer Journey events. The first took place on the 26th May after church at London Road. 27 people participated and, together, we explored who we are and why we are.

I led an opening reflection using a story about a Lifeboat Station that went through various cycles in its commitment to saving lives along a dangerous coastline where shipwrecks were frequent. Each time the Station grew and developed and then became more concerned about protecting their investment in what became a somewhat exclusive club, more concerned about the clubhouse than the bedraggled victims of the sea. All this has resulted in a number of lifeboat stations along that coast but not a lot of lifesaving going on as a result.

We invited everyone to go off for a period of quiet reflection and prayer, giving them three questions to ponder:

Think back over the past 24 years what has changed:

In the world round about us;

In our local community;

In the Church.

What did the lifesaving station story say to you?

What is our purpose? What is ours to do?

The period of reflection was followed by group discussion in smaller groups before recording the feedback from those discussions. The limits of space prevent me from detailing the feedback but as I look at the question about our purpose I note the following:

To be a vehicle for God's love seeking justice for all

Grow followers of Jesus;

To be welcoming and inclusive

Face the door, not the altar

To create spaces where people can encounter Jesus.

As I read those I am encouraged! Inherently, we do know who we are and why we are – we just need to discover, with growing confidence, how to be who we are!

That's the task of our second event on the 7th July. Please do join us at Partridge Green.

One I want to emphasise, we all need to try and participate in each of the Discerning Prayer Journey events. They're NOT just for the Chapel they're happening in! It is as we spend time listening, reflecting and sharing together, that we together, discern God's voice in the midst of the challenges we are facing.

Please do try to attend all, or as many as possible, of the remaining events to develop the conversation together.

Included with this edition of Outlook you will find the handout and questions along with the full feedback responses. Please do use these if you did not attend the first event to prepare yourself for the next one.

There are also two responses received, from Sandra Artes and the Brighton Road House Group, to our initial invitation. Please do let us have any thoughts you might have. Send them to John Dale, the Church Council Secretary at ccsecretary@connerstone-mc.org.uk or hand them to a steward.

Gavin

The small group of ladies (formerly a home group) who meet at St Andrews in the Garden Room on alternate Tuesday mornings would like to extend a warm invitation and welcome to everyone to come and join them.

The meetings start at about 10.30am with tea/coffee and chat. This is followed by time spent looking at the Bible, or other books, to read passages linked to the previous Sunday service, discussing what the leader said and sharing any new or fresh understanding of the Bible passages.

Earlier this year, the group explored 'Sunshine and Showers' and, having explored ideas about prayer, has also considered the 'Prayer Discernment Journey', sharing their thoughts about the long-term future of Cornerstone.

In July and August, the plan is to use the Bible Month materials to guide the group through Genesis – despite the ages and experience of the current members, there is still sometimes a feeling of still wearing L plates!

The meetings close with a short time of prayer to support each other with current concerns, sometime agreeing to pray for each other between meetings. Some members of the group then choose to stay to the lunch organised by Horsham Matters.

Everyone is welcome (ladies and men) to come and join us in this sharing of faith and experience, learning and praying together. The first time we will be meeting in July is on Tuesday 2nd July.

Slavery and the slave trade

Slavery has been around ever since humans first picked up weapons and fought each other. It was institutionalised as the first civilisations emerged, such as the Sumerian in Mesopotamia, where it is first noted as an established practice as far back as 3500BC. It was widespread in the ancient world throughout Europe, Asia, the Middle East and Africa, although its prevalence reduced across Europe in the Middle Ages.

However, during the centuries of Christian / Muslim warfare, both sides were responsible for enslaving their captives. Islamic law of the time approved of the enslavement of non-Muslims, so from the 7th to 20th century slaves were trafficked across mainly western and central Asia, northern and eastern Africa, India and Europe.

The transatlantic slave trade really started in the 16th century, with Portuguese merchants purchasing captured Africans in return for commodities such as guns, gunpowder and cloth, and transporting them to colonies in the Americas. The demand drove local wars to enslave yet more Africans, but also slaves from India and the New World, to create the local workforce. As the requirement for slaves grew, so did the range of people and nations involved in their transportation, especially the British. Much of the wealth created in the 18th – 19th centuries in Western economies was based on the slave trade from various parts of the world.

Ultimately, as we know, the transatlantic slave trade was abolished in the 18th – 19th century by European and American governments. Interestingly, the first country to fully outlaw slavery was France in 1315, although it was used later in their colonies. The first (and so far only) country to self-liberate from slavery is Haiti, a former French colony, in early 19th century. Japan outlawed chattel slavery in 1590, although as is well-known the Japanese prisoner-of-war camps used forced labour (effectively slavery) in WWII.

But what about nowadays? It remains an international problem, although no country admits to adopting it. As of 2019, an estimated 25 – 40 million people across the world were enslaved, mostly in Asia it is believed. 25% of these were children That total figure is equivalent to the entire population of Austria, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands together! Slavery in the 21st century continues, and is estimated to generate $150billion in annual profits for those slavers. In 2016, sex trafficking and sexual slavery were estimated to account for around 5million people, 300,000 of them in developed economies and the EU.

And what is being done about it? Because it is such a secret trade, outright policing is notoriously difficult. Many governments have passed laws against the many forms of slavery, but policing it is a highly complex, difficult task. One effort, the A21 Campaign, Abolishing Injustice in the 21st Century, is trying to address human trafficking by providing potential victims with the education and information on how to reduce their likelihood of being trafficked, by teaching how to reduce their vulnerability.

Numerous international organizations partnered to create an anti-human trafficking Giving Day to raise awareness and funds on July, 30th 2017. This is the day designated by the United Nations as the World Day against Trafficking in Persons. So remember July 30th as the day annually designated for moving against slavery in all its forms.

July 30th: World Day against Trafficking in Persons

The Methodist Church

Church communities, including Methodists, are joining forces ahead of the general election to call for an end to poverty. Banners with the message “Let’s End Poverty in the UK and globally” are being put up, with churches inviting prospective parliamentary candidates to set out clear action plans to tackle the issue.

Bible Month July 2024 Genesis: God's invitation to partnership

On the Sundays in July, we will be exploring the book of Genesis across all three chapels.

Genesis is the starting point for all Christian theology and explores many of the foundational questions of life and faith:

Who is God? What is God like? How does God interact with the world? How is that world meant to be? What does it mean to be human? What does it look like to be God's people?

Through the book, we get to journey with many different characters as they wrestle (sometimes literally!) with finding answers to these questions in the midst of the messiness and uncertainty of life.

Week 1 – The Sovereign God who creates (Adam and Eve) Chapters 1-11

Week 2 – The God who calls and blesses (Abraham and Sarah) Chapters 12-25

Week 3 – The God who comes to people in their struggle (Jacob) Chapters 25-36

Week 4 – The God who confirms and safeguards promises (Joseph) Chapters 37-50

Bible Month Discussion Group – Friday mornings

is an ENVIRONMENTAL issue and not one of poverty. The food is there for EVERYONE to use, so that it is not wasted.

The St Andrews Community Fridge on the first Saturday of the month now includes a REFILL STATION. Please come along and see what we have – laundry liquid, washing up liquid, etc as well as loofahs, soap, Ecoballs for the washing machine....BUT we would also appreciate donations of CLEAN bottles that people can take home their purchases in if they forget to bring their own bottles! They need to be bottles which will stand on a scale to be filled, and the lids come off easily. Please wash them out thoroughly and give them to Sarah when you see her... Thank you!

The Fridge is open on the first Saturday of the month from 10.00am - 11.00am.

Roadworks happening in London Road

Please be aware that there will be roadworks happening in London Road for resurfacing and repairing of ironworks etc. This will take place for three days, weather permitting, from the 2nd July.

Quoting from the letter received: *Access to all properties will be maintained whenever possible. However, when works are being carried out in the immediate vicinity delays may occur for operational and/or safety reasons. If immediate access might be required when works are being carried out in these locations, IT IS ADVISABLE TO MAKE ALTERNATIVE PARKING ARRANGEMENTS OUTSIDE OF THE WORKING AREA.

We would therefore urge you to avoid attempting to use the London Road carpark during the day time that week and find alternative parking solutions. Our Bookings Officer will inform the users of the situation but please take note if you have any functions planned for that period at London Road.
